SARGENT & LUNDY SETS DATES FOR 2008 TRANSMISSION LINE AND SUBSTATION ENGINEERING COURSES

Chicago, IL USA - The Sargent & Lundy Power Delivery Services group has set the dates for its highly regarded Transmission Line and Substation Engineering courses. Sargent & Lundy's senior engineers have conducted the courses since 1994 for engineers and designers from domestic and international electric power companies. Attendees obtain 1 Continuing Education Unit (CEU) for every 10 hours of classroom instruction and a Certificate of Completion. In addition, the courses are also available to utilities at their offices.

The 4-day courses are open to utility staff and provide practical, project-oriented training for both entry level engineers and the experienced engineer new to the design, specification, and installation of transmission and substation facilities. To date, more than 1300 industry professionals from 100 companies have participated.

The 2008 course dates in Chicago are:

Substation Engineering Course

March 3-6, 2008

November 3-6, 2008

Transmission Line Engineering Course

March 10-13, 2008

November 10-13, 2008
